

WHY NOT? 2010

Spring Break Video Contest

Spring fever is spreading through high schools and colleges across the country. While you and your friends are debating between Panama City Beach and South Beach, here's one more topic to debate—underage drinking. Take your debate to YouTube.com or SchoolTube.com and enter the "Why Not?" Spring Break Video Contest and you may win a $1,000 gift card to Best Buy. What better time to buy a new laptop for college or a digital camera to capture your beach pics with?

HERE'S THE GIST:

14- to 20-year-olds can submit 30-second videos using YouTube.com, SchoolTube.com, or other ways, on why you choose not to drink alcohol underage during spring break. It's simple—visit www.MyFloridaLicense.com to find contest rules and other information.

All submissions are due by Saturday, Feb. 20, 2010. Video release forms must be submitted along with the online entry form by the deadline for consideration.

Find out more about the
"Why Not?" 2010 Spring Break Video Contest
at www.MyFloridaLicense.com

Florida Department of Business & Professional
Regulation

