Major Issues/Actions

- The board reviewed two endorsement applications for licensure as architects. Both applications were approved by the board.
- The board approved language presented by National Council of Interior Design Qualification (NCIDQ) to rename the organization to Council of Interior Design Qualification (CIDQ). Board delegate Emory Johnson will present the documentation to NCIDQ of the board's approval to the change.
- Rule 61G1-24.001, Florida Administrative Code, Continuing Education for Architects was amended November 21, 2012 to require 24 hours of continuing education. However, because of the close timing to the current renewal cycle, the board voted to not charge applicants in the current biennium to meet this requirement. Upon the next renewal cycle ending in 2015, the requirement will be in effect.

- The board's Public Service Announcement (PSA) has been re-organized to go in to effect in January to be more in line with university schedules to allow for maximum participation in the PSA video campaign.
