Employer Waiver #
Expiration Date

The Florida Administrative Code (FAC) 61L-2005(3), which limits minors from dispensing and transporting compressed air that exceeds 40 pounds per square inch (psi), is waived for the minors listed below who have completed an approved training program, and the parent or guardian has been notified that the minor may be operating this equipment,. The waiver is limited to the use of supplemental oxygen units commonly used in life guarding or similar aquatics lifesaving positions and only while performing their job duties. The employer must remain in compliance with all other provisions of the Child Labor Statute, except that which is specified above.

These waivers allow minors, who have completed an appropriate safety training course, to dispense supplemental oxygen as part of their employment responsibilities when employed as lifeguards or in similar aquatics lifesaving positions. Without a waiver, minors would not otherwise be able to use this lifesaving equipment during employment as lifeguards or in similar aquatics lifesaving positions.

Employers should mail or fax the signed authorization to the Child Labor Section. By signing the authorization, the employer verifies that the minors listed have completed the approved training program and the parent or guardian has been notified. This document will then serve as an approved waiver for the minors listed, unless notified by the Child Labor section. Upon receipt of this authorization, the Child Labor section will return to the employer a waiver number and expiration date for each minor. Employers are required to keep copies of the parental letter, proof of training, and must maintain a copy of the waiver while the minors are employed for enforcement purposes. The waiver will be valid for a period of one year from the date received in this office.
