

IRRIGATION CONTRACTOR

The Department will be licensing a new contractor's category, Irrigation Contractor, in the near future. The Irrigation Contractor's examination will be administered via pencil and paper during the April, June, August, October and December 2013 examination administrations. The last pencil & paper administration of this category will be the February 2014 examination. This category will be converted to the Computer Based format and launched in March 2014. Candidates wishing to take the Irrigation Contractor's examination will be able to register for the examination starting in February.

March 27, 2013